- (g) appoint its employees in prescribed manner; and
- (h) the Information Commission after determination of willful destruction of record shall refer such matters to the relevant agencies.

(2) Non-compliance of a decision of the Information Commission under clauses (e) and (f) of sub-section (1) may, if it has not been appealed against within thirty days, be dealt with in the same way as contempt of court.

21. Funding for the Information Commission. —The Federal Government shall make annual budgetary allocation to the Information Commission to discharge its functions under this Act.

22. Offences. — (1) Any person who acts willfully to obstruct the implementation of this Act including by—

- (a) obstructing access to any information or record with a view to preventing the exercise of a right provided for in this Act;
- (b) obstructing the performance by a public body of a duty under this Act;
- (c) interfering with the work of the information Commission; or

(d) destroying a record without lawful authority, shall be punishable with a fine not exceeding fifty thousand Rupees.

(2) In addition to any other action that may be taken under any other law for the time being in force, any person who willfully destroys a record which at the time it was destroyed was the subject of an application for access to information or appeal or otherwise obstructs access to information which is the subject of an application or appeal, with the intention of preventing its disclosure under this Act, commits an offence punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine which shall not be less than one hundred thousand Rupees or with both.

23. Indemnity.—No suit, prosecution or legal proceedings shall lie against the principal officer, designated official or any other person of a public body in respect of anything which in good faith is done or purported to have been done under this Act and the rules made thereunder.

24. Recruitment in Information Commission.—Excluding the Chief Information Commissioner and Commissioners, appointment of officers and staff in Information Commission from BS-16 and above shall be made through Federal Public Service Commission in line with the Federal Public Service Commission Ordinance, 1977 (XLV of 1977).

25. Act to override other laws.—The provisions of this Act shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any other law for the time being in force.

26. Power to make rules.—The Federal Government may, by notification in the official Gazette and within one hundred and twenty days from commencement of this Act, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

27. Power to make regulations.—The Information Commission may make regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of the rules made under section 26, regarding its internal procedures and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, it may make regulations regarding—

- (a) record management standards; and
- (b) fee that may be charged for requests; and
- (c) procedure for processing of appeals.

28. Power to remove difficulty.—If any difficulty arises in giving effect to any of the provisions of this Act, the Federal Government may make such order, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, as deemed necessary for the purpose of removing the difficulty:

Provided that no such order shall be made after expiry of one year from the commencement of this Act.

29. Repeal.—The Freedom of Information Ordinance, 2002 (XCVI of 2002) is hereby repealed.
